MAYOR GAYNOR OF NEW YORK IS DEAD

DIED SUDDENLY ON BOARD SHIP ON WAY ABROAD, SAYS WIRELESS.

WAS NATIONALLY PROMINENT

Son of a Poor Farmer, Jurist-Politician Made Wonderful Record as Reform Mayor of New York.

New York, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Special to Telegraph.—The following radiogram was received today at Cook Haven from the steamship Baltic: "To Robert Adams, Secretary to Mayor Gaynor of New York City: "Father died Wednesday at one o'clock. Death due to heart failure. Notify mother." Signed, "R. W. Gaynor."

R. W. Gaynor is the son of Mayor Wm. J. Gaynor, mayor of New York City. The mayor and his son were on a trip abroad, in search of better health for the father.

Mayor Gaynor's death has shocked the nation, for he was a very prominent figure in politics, national as well as local. He was to have been a candidate to succeed himself at the next election.

Obituary. William Jay Gaynor, jurist and politician, who made a remarkable record as "Reform Mayor" of New York City, was born as the son of a poor farmer near Whitestown, N. Y., in 1851. He received his early education in the public schools of his home town and later at the "Whitestown seminary and in Boston and was originally destined to enter the priesthood of the Roman Catholic church. As a boy young Gaynor was ambitious and made every effort to acquire a good education.

In his young manhood he taught school in Boston and afterward studied law in Utica, N. Y., removing to Brooklyn in 1873 to continue his studies. Meanwhile he made a scant living by working for newspapers. He was admitted to the bar in 1875 and went to live in Flatbush, then a separate community in the control of corrupt politicians. Straightway Gaynor began to study his surroundings and developed his fighting qualities as a reformer. He found that Flatbush had forty saloons, but only one liquor license. He obtained evidence against the saloons, had their proprietors arrested and compelled them to take out licenses. Then he called the better element together and a reform ticket was nominated at the next election.

Although opposed by political machines, the reform ticket was elected and Gaynor was appointed police commissioner. As commissioner his most notable achievement was the closing of several illegal road houses on the Ocean Parkway, the evidence being procured, the keepers convicted and the whole business cleaned up within sixty days.

In 1885 Mr. Gaynor moved to Brooklyn proper and soon found himself arraigned against the late Hugh McLaughlin, the democratic boss. When the town of New Lots was annexed to Brooklyn in 1889 the boss and his friends, with their peculiar foresight, purchased, through dummies, the Long Island Water company in the new addition for $185,000. Their purpose was to sell it to the city and they had contracted with the mayor to dispose of it for $1,500,000. Gaynor denounced the deal as a swindle and declared he would stop it. So he had a taxpayers' suit started to prevent the consummation of the deal, and eventually won in the highest court in the state, saving the city of Brooklyn nearly $1,000,000 and beating the ring out of that amount.

Next Mr. Gaynor started out to make the elevated roads of Brooklyn pay their taxes. The Brooklyn political ring stood in with the traction companies and had refused to allow the property to be sold for the delinquency. Gaynor compelled the traction companies to pay about $1,000,000 into the city treasury, much to the astonishment of McLaughlin's men. Mr. Gaynor fought the ring in various other ways, its overthrow being completed when, in

LIGHTING RODS AGAIN POPULAR

STATE FIRE MARSHAL URGES USE OF THUNDER BOLT CONDUCTOR ON ALL BUILDINGS IN OPEN COUNTRY

The lightning rod, which has ceased to be popular in many parts of Illinois since the halcyon days of the lightning rod agent a few years ago, will come into its own again if F. R. Morgaridge, acting state fire marshal, has his way. He has started a lightning rod campaign which he hopes will result in a general boom in thunder bolt conductors.

Not that Mr. Morgaridge is interested in a lightning rod factory. He is just trying to keep property from being burned up in fires caused by electrical phenomena.

Blamed for Fires. "Nearly 350 fires caused by lightning were reported to this department in 1912," Mr. Morgaridge says, "and in almost every instance the buildings damaged or destroyed were not protected by lightning rods. Many of such fires are now being recorded and that in which the Pekin distillery was destroyed at a loss of $125,000 is perhaps the most disastrous. There is no question but that rods properly set up and grounded will very greatly reduce the probability of lightning fires.

"Protection against lightning is usually advisable on country buildings, on isolated buildings, and all buildings wherever located which have elevated features, such as tall chimneys, steeples or peaked roofs."

"Undoubtedly the best material to be employed for lightning rods is either copper tape or ordinary galvanized iron pipe. Either copper or iron is suitable for conductors, but iron should not be used in locations difficult of access, where corrosion is likely owing to necessity of frequent painting to guard against such corrosion."

VISITOR PRAISES ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

PEORIANS COMMENTED ON THE LUMINOUS ARC LIGHTS BEING INSTALLED.

Dixon's luminous ornamental electric lights, which are being installed by the Illinois Northern Utilities company, were the subject of much favorable comment on the part of the Peoria business men who visited here this morning. Especially was Sales Manager Buckwell of the Peoria Gas and Electric company impressed with the modern lights being used, and he expressed his wonder that the cost did not prohibit the new lights being selected by the business men.

MARGARET FIEN IS DEAD IN ROCHESTER

MOTHER OF DIXON MAN PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY FROM HEART FAILURE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Special to Telegraph.—Mrs. Margaret Fien, aged 77, mother of Louis Fien of Dixon, died last night at 415 Ames street in the Holy Family church rectory, from a sudden attack of heart failure. Burial will take place Friday in Rochester. Beside her son, Louis Fien, she leaves two grandsons, Louis and Dick Fien, also of Dixon.

SUPERVISORS LOOK AT ROAD GANG WORK

The Lee county board of supervisors visited Camp Hope, the camp of the Joliet honor men, late yesterday afternoon, and were interested spectators of the road work, being done. The 45 men are accomplishing wonders in their work and are bearing out fully Superintendent Kogan's statement that his crew can accomplish more than the ordinary road gang of a like number of men.

PEORIA BOOSTERS MAKE SHORT CALL

140 MEMBERS OF PEORIA ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE AND BAND.

ENTERTAINED BY THE ELKS

Delegation Taken to the Elks Club Where Speeches Were Made and Jolly Hour Enjoyed.

The Peoria Publicity-fellowship excursion, about 140 strong, arrived in Dixon this morning at about 9 o'clock. They left their train at the North Dixon depot and took interurban cars to the business section of the city where they formed in parade and, escorted by a delegation of Dixon business men, marched to the Elks club, where they were entertained for an hour with refreshments and speeches.

Judge E. S. Farrand of Dixon made a speech of welcome to the visiting delegation and assured them that Dixon was extremely pleased to be accorded the honor of a visit from the representatives of an up-to-date, bustling, beautiful city like Peoria. He hoped they would come again and regretted their present stay was so brief.

C. W. Dall, manager of the Peoria Convention bureau, was introduced by John W. McDowell, president of the Peoria Association of Commerce, and made a short talk on the object of the "swing around the circle," declaring that the Peoria association not only aimed for a greater Peoria, but a greater Illinois.

Judge Lester D. Puterbaugh, recently resigned from the circuit bench to become the republican candidate for the supreme bench position to succeed Judge Hand, was called for and he made a few graceful remarks about the beauties of Dixon and the heartiness of the reception accorded the visitors and invited all to come to Peoria.

All the speakers were accorded on enthusiastic applause and the meeting was notable for the very evident good fellowship that quickly brought the Peoria and Dixon men into close friendship.

Undaunted by the rain which commenced during the meeting at the Elks, the visitors then formed columns and marched away when their time was up.

One feature of the meeting which added life and snap was the music of the Spencer band of Peoria, which organization has been with the train during the entire trip.

The special train carrying the booster delegation was made up of 11 Pullman coaches and a baggage car full of literature, etc. The enterprise of the party is demonstrated in the paper they published enroute with a little press they carry in the baggage car.

The Peoria fellows are good fellows. They look and act the part and Dixon was pleased to have them here, even for so brief a call.

DEKALB TO PUT CRUDE OIL ON COUNTRY ROAD

WILL FOLLOW THE EXAMPLE OF THE MALTA HIGHWAY COMMISSIONERS IN PRESERVING THE TRANSCONTINENTAL

Following the lead of the Malta highway commissioners in putting a heavy coat of oil on the transcontinental to keep the top dressing from blowing into the neighboring field, the DeKalb township officials have secured a lot of crude oil and are oiling the road from the western edge of the township eastward.

Several tanks of the lubricant have been purchased and will be applied to the top of the road. The addition of a coat of oil helps the road a whole lot, both in making traffic a lot more comfortable and in keeping the road from disintegrating.

PROGRESSIVE HOLD A PARTY ROUNDUP

FORTY LEE COUNTY MEN HELD A BANQUET LAST EVENING.

PROMINENT PROGRESSIVES SPEAK

Dixon Men Joined Supervisors and Others From the County in Pleasant Evening.

About forty progressives of Lee county held an informal banquet and get together meeting in the Nachusa house last night. Prominent progressives were in attendance from all parts of the county and a very enjoyable evening was passed.

John E. Erwin presided and called on a number of those present for an expression of their personal feelings in regard to the political situation and their opinion of the future. All the talk was very hopeful and enthusiastic. Many pledges of personal and financial assistance were offered.

Judge Watts of Dixon made the principal address, but short talks were also made by Clyde Smith, J. F. Edwards, J. H. Clark, Mark D. Smith, A. M. Stebbins, C. A. Stebbins and H. L. Fordham of Dixon; A. W. Rosecrans, Harvey Sindlinger and Mr. Quick of Ashton; A. S. Wells of Pawpaw; J. W. Banks of Compton; Mr. Ewald of Reynolds and a number of others.

The progressives are planning to put a full ticket in the field all along the line next fall.

They are also planning for a county picnic this fall to be held either at Amboy or Compton, at which time some prominent speakers will be in attendance. Senator Beveridge of Indiana has partially promised to be present and some of the members of the ladies' lobby which was so successful at Springfield last winter in getting through the women's suffrage bill will also be on hand to talk to the ladies.

A number of letters from progressives who were unable to be present were read and the meeting broke up at a late hour with mutual expressions of hopefulness for the future of the party.

At the meeting last evening John W. Banks, supervisor, of Compton and Attorney John E. Erwin of Dixon, both announced themselves as candidates for the offices of county clerk and county judge respectively, on the progressive ticket, at the primary to be held in this county next fall.

MANY WITNESSED LEE DEDICATION

HASKELL MEMORIAL ODD FELLOWS BUILDING WAS DEDICATED YESTERDAY.

The dedication of the new Haskell Memorial Odd Fellows building at Lee Center Wednesday was an event long to be remembered by the members of that lodge and by those who participated, for the dedicatory work was carried out without a hitch of any kind and an exceptionally large crowd attended.

The opening ceremonies were in charge of Mrs. Haskell, the patroness of the lodge, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. Kempster, while the dedication proper was in charge of Grand Conductor W. H. Pease of Harvey, of the state grand lodge. Following the formal dedication Rev. C. E. Sayre of Freeport delivered an address on "The Mission of Odd Fellowship," and the lectures was a strong and carefully prepared treatise on the principles which have made Odd Fellowship a great fraternity.

At 4:30 o'clock the skilled drill team of the Dixon lodge Rebekahs under the direction of Dr. C. A. Robbins of this city, gave an exhibition drill that was highly entertaining and instructive. A grand ball in the evening completed the day's entertainment.

SUPERVISORS ARE IN BUSY SESSION

COUNTY SOLONS WADE THROUGH BIG PREMIUMS BRING MANY ENTRIES—NEW FEATURES INTRODUCED.

PROVIDE PENSION FOR MOTHERS

Provide for a Special Levy of Three-Tenths of a Mill—Fix Salary of Highway Superintendent.

WHAT THE BOARD DID.

BULLETIN, 3:40. By a vote of 17 to 5 the supervisors adopted the report of the state aid roads committee.

Fixed salary of county superintendent of highways at $2,000 per year. County will furnish free office rent, but superintendent of highways to pay all other expenses.

Approved tax levies of various townships as certified to the county clerk.

Passed resolution providing for levy of three-tenths of a mill on every $100 valuation for a mothers' pension fund. Also provided that probation officer in cases where the pension is allowed by the county court shall be named by the court from the township in which the pension is granted, and the pay of that officer shall be $2 per day with all necessary expenses for the time actually engaged.

Passed resolution approving and endorsing convict road labor, and urging an amendment of the law to allow all able bodied men from any state, county or penal institution to be employed on the roads or in the preparation of road material.

Authorized the re-binding of the old tax collectors' books.

The board of supervisors got down to real business this morning when the reports of nearly all standing committees were read and approved, carrying with them many claims against the county, and incidentally the board settled two questions that have arisen by the enactment of new laws by the general assembly.

The most important of the new matters to be taken up by the board was the fixing of the salary of the county superintendent of highways an office created by the Tice road law, which will be filled following the examinations to be conducted in this city Oct. 18 by the state highway commission.

The board fixed the salary of the Lee county superintendent at $2,000 per year and agreed to furnish an office in the court house for the officer. All other expenses of the position must be borne by the superintendent.

Endorsed "Camp Hope."

The board, on motion of Supervisor Buckaloo of Nelson township passed a resolution endorsing the manner in which "Camp Hope," the convict road gang, is being conducted, and approving of and endorsing the scheme of utilizing convict labor on the roads of the state. The resolution also urged the amendment of the law so that all able bodied men in any state, county or penal institution may be employed upon the roads or in the preparation of road material irrespective of time they have to serve. A copy of the resolution will be sent to Gov. Dunne.

Re-engage Wicher.

Acting on the recommendation of the county home committee, the board re-engaged Clyde Wicher and his wife as superintendent and matron of the county home. This will be the 14th year that these good people have been in charge of the county farm, and the appointments are a tribute to their ability as managers of the place.

Among the minor details of business attended to by the board this morning were the passage of a resolution authorizing the re-binding of the old tax collectors' books, which are needed often in the trial of court cases, and the payment of the county's share, $586.80, of the cost of a concrete wall and approach to the bridge over Hill creek in Sublette township.

Mothers' Pension.

The board also provided for the levy of a tax of three-tenths of a mill on every $100 assessed valuation in

INSTALL SYSTEM ON THE FAIR GROUNDS

BIG PREMIUMS BRING MANY ENTRIES—NEW FEATURES INTRODUCED.

The Lee County Fair association is installing a water system on the fair grounds to furnish water for all the barns. A tank measuring 10x10 feet is being placed on a 15-foot tower just back of the Dabier residence and this will be filled by a gasoline engine. The ground on which it stands is 15 feet higher than the fair grounds, hence the water will have a 35-foot fall.

The amphitheatre, barns and fences are all being painted white and will present a very clean, attractive appearance.

The amphitheatre, which is being enlarged to more than double its former size, will seat about 3,000 persons. The entrance will be in the center with a bandstand above it, and the two parts of the building will be separated by an aisle about 20 feet wide.

The premiums offered are larger than ever before and as large as are offered by any county fair in Illinois. Many good entries of cattle and horses are being made in consequence. Secretary Leech says there is a prospect of a much better showing, especially in horses, than last year and that more people are taking an interest in the fair.

Among the exhibitors is J. W. Larabee of Pawpaw who will exhibit a herd of 25 head of Red Poll cattle with which he is making the rounds of five state fairs. This is the only county fair at which he will exhibit this fine herd.

New features in the livestock department this year are an exhibit of mules and one of Shetland ponies. Fifteen or 20 ponies have been entered and more are expected.

The race entries, according to Mr. Leech, are the equal if not superior of last year and they are coming in more rapidly than at this time a year ago. The prospect is for an unusually fine field of horses.

Beside the sideshows, merry go round, etc., and the daily balloon ascension by Dare Devil Ray there will be a new free attraction in the shape of the Three Tyrones, who will give four exhibitions daily, all different, on a platform in front of the amphitheatre. Those who have seen them say that beside being clever acrobats they work in many comic features which are truly laughable.

The general arrangement of the concessions will be about the same as last year, except that the two eating tents will be just east of the dancing pavillion.

BIG ORCHESTRA TO PLAY SATURDAY

The repairs and alterations at Rosbrook hall, which have been in progress for a few weeks, will be completed in time for the dance Saturday night and it is proposed to make the Saturday night affair one of special importance. The Marquette orchestra of six pieces will play that evening.

the township, the amount to be placed in the mothers' pension fund, to be used at the order of the county court. The county clerk is made the county agent for the fund, while the board instructed the county judge to select the probation officer in each case in which a mother is granted a pension, from the township in which the applicant resides. The salary of the probation officer shall be $2 per day and all necessary expense for the time actually given the work. The levy will raise a fund of approximately $5,400.

Fight on Roads.

At 3:15 this afternoon, after two hours of heated argument in the committee room, the state aid roads committee reported its recommendations to the open board and immediately the decks were cleared for action. Objection after objection was filed by various supervisors and before a finished map, showing the roads on which state aid is wished, is ready to be sent to the state highway commission some warm debates are assured. The objections' determination is matched by that of the committee.

SPECIAL TRAINS ON "Q" FOR FAIR WEEK

L. C. SCHEDULES WILL ALSO BE IDEAL FOR VISITORS AT AMBOY FAIR.

TUESDAY WILL BE BIG DAY

Many Schools Will Close to Allow Children Opportunity of Visiting "Pumpkin Show."

Arrangements have been made by the Lee County Fair association with the Burlington Railroad company for the operation of a special train east of Amboy Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, and this train will certainly boost the attendance at the fair from the territory between Shabbona and Amboy. The train will run on the following schedule on the days named:

Tuesday will be a big day for the school children who attend the fair and there is no doubt there will be a large attendance of the young people as many of the schools in the vicinity of Amboy will be closed for the day to give the students an opportunity to attend the fair and study the exhibits.

Ready for Fair.

Everything is in absolute readiness for the opening of the fair next Tuesday and every indication is the coming fair will be the greatest in the history of the association. The addition to the grandstand has been completed, giving the Lee county association one of the largest grandstands in this section of the state, and the advance word from prospective exhibitors indicates that all of the available exhibition room will be taken.

FINE FEATHERS FINE PLAY

EXCELLENT PRODUCTION OF EUGENE WALTERS' LATEST PLAY LAST NIGHT.

"Fine Feathers" opened the season at the Dixon opera house last evening and the management is to be congratulated upon the selection of this excellent play for the first attraction. If last evening's production is a criterion of what is to follow, Dixon theatre goers have some fine entertainments in store for them this season.

The cast in last night's production while not the same as when the play was presented at the Cort theatre in Chicago, was in every way fully as adequate and gave a finished production. The state settings used last night were the same as used in Chicago and as a result a performance which has won the highest praise was given here.

Miss Jessie Harding of Chicago formerly of Dixon, a very talented young woman, gave a number of readings with exquisite grace and expression, giving evidence that she is one of the most able and charming readers of today. Her time in the city is filled with engagements of the highest order in the city of Chicago.

Miss Harding's first number consisted of a couple of French Canadian dialect sketches, given in a superb manner. "A Social Promoter," by Wilbur Nesbit, was given with inimitable grace; "An After Dinner Apology of a French Count" took the audience by storm and "The Sketch on Woman's Suffrage" was equally enjoyed. The last sketch of "Carmella Ricardo" was perhaps the most affecting of all the readings, and all of the were heartily encored.

Miss Maude Reynolds delighted the guests with a number of songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Altman. Her first number was "Ah, Sweet as Any Flower," by Schumann and her encore to the enthusiastic applause was "Miswary" by Harriet Ware. Her second number was "Marguerite" by Harriet Ware, and her encore number, "The Lost Dance" was given with beautiful expression. Miss Reynolds has a beautiful voice and range and has a brilliant future before her.

FARMERS POUR INTO CANADA

One Illinois Farmer with Nine Sons Buys Farm for Each.

Calgary, Sept. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. William Spence of Illinois, and their nine sons, ranging in age from 21 to 36, and all skilled farmers, arrived here today to buy farms and to build new homes for themselves in the Canadian West. Land for two of the boys was selected immediately and Mr. Spence says he is convinced that Canada is the best country for his family to live in.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence were members of a party numbering 150 "hand-picked" farmers from the middle western states attracted by reports of big 1913 crops in Western Canada who came on a special homeseekers' train, the second big special to arrive over the Canadian Pacific in two weeks. The party has dispersed through the surrounding country to make personal selection of their lands. The states of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Ohio, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota are represented in this party. Many of them are prosperous farmers owning their farms; others are younger men who rent their grounds and who say that under present conditions it is hopeless for a renter to try to become a farm owner in the western states owing to high prices per acre. These men are drawn to the western provinces of Canada by the prospect of owning their own homes there, while the wealthy farm owners believe that Canada offers greater opportunities to themselves and their families. Several farmers were accompanied by their wives, and all expressed themselves as being delighted with the appearance of the country, which is busy harvesting.

According to crop reports compiled by the Calgary Credit Men's Association, covering all of the southern portion of the province and as far north as Stettler, the grain yield will be about 30 per cent in excess of last year's record yield, and will practically all be marketable. Tremendous increases in mixed farming output are reported—for instance the Lethbridge district, which last year shipped 50,000 head of hogs, will this year market 450,000. It is expected that the hog output of the province will be considerably in excess of 1,000,000 head, as compared with 200,000 last year.

Much of this increase in mixed farming is due to the American farmers who have settled in this part of the province. The colonists who have gone on the land have been skilled men with a record of special success in some branch of agriculture, and the results of their work are beginning to show. Next year should see an even greater increase, as the new settlers go on the land, and the farmers already established increase their operations.

Adv.

Altogether the evening proved of unalloyed pleasure.

CANCEL CONTEST.
County Superintendent L. W. Miller has received word from F. G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, to the effect that the gold medal contest to have been conducted on the Perry anniversary has been called off by the state commission, the shortness of the available time making it inadvisable to proceed with the statewide contest.

W. E. Loftus of Kalamazoo was here today.

LOST GIRL RETURNED.
Ruth Adams, the young girl whose disappearance from her home here Sunday caused her parents to ask the aid of the officers in finding her, returned home last night. She stated that she had been in a dazed condition and did not know where she had been.

Perfect Chronometers.
The French watch-maker, notwithstanding years of trial, is not yet able to rival the Swiss, nor is he able to manufacture chronometers equal to those made in Geneva. The Chronometrical Observatory of Besancon has interesting records on this subject. This observatory subjected watches to severe tests under a great variety of conditions before formulating the rule that a watch to be perfect must meet with not less than three hundred requirements. Judging by this hard-and-fast rule, there are no perfect watches in the world; yet certain pocket chronometers have covered over 263 of the points laid down by the observatory—Harper's Weekly.

Protect Bullion in Shipment.
Making monthly shipments amounting to nearly $12,000,000, the South African gold mines take extreme care that their bullion shall reach the coast in safety. Since most of the shipments are sent from Pretoria by rail many attempts have been made to hold up trains. To make successful robbery impossible the mine companies have built a car that is substantially a safe on wheels. It is equipped with lights that show every inch of space under, over, alongside, and on each end of the body, and it is bullet and bomb-proof. As further protection a guard is locked up in the car with every shipment, and cannot be released until the destination is reached.

Governor Sulzer, apropos of certain feeble defenses of certain Albany grafts, said to a group of reporters: "These defenses are all unsatisfactory. In their presence I am like Mrs. Oldes. 'That Mrs. Oldes is dreadfully hard to please,' said a woman. 'How so?' another woman asked. 'Why, I told her the other day that she carried her age well, and she didn't seem to like it at all, and she told her that she didn't carry it well, and she liked that less than ever.'"

Never Lost Standing.

Tecumseh, the famous Indian chief, did not lose his standing among his own people because of his disastrous defeat at Tippecanoe. In the American Historical Review an interesting "journal" of the war of 1812 is published which contains this reference to the chief: "I have seen the great Tecumseh. He is a very plain man, rather above middle size, a noble set of features and an admirable eye. He is always accompanied by six great chiefs, who never go before him."

Cook Ovens in Mexican Villages.

In nearly every Mexican village may be found a rounded structure of dried mud resembling an old-fashioned bee hive with a small opening near the ground. It is the oven which is utilized by the village for general culinary purposes. Early in the day the oven is thoroughly heated by building a fire in it, and after the coals are brushed down all the pots and pans containing the food to be cooked are placed inside and the oven is closed up. No further attention is paid to it until dinner time.

Ingenious Chemist.

There is a chemist in Paris who sold eggs at from $1 a dozen upward and found plenty of customers for knowing how strongly many people object to taking medicine in its natural form, he used to impregnate the eggs with drugs of various kinds. Persons suffering from insomnia could be supplied with anti-pyria eggs, influenza patients with quinine eggs, gouty people with colchicum eggs, and others with different varieties, according to their complaints.

Good Coffee Costs Less

It's the poor coffee that's expensive. High grade coffee yields more cups to the pound than low grade—there is more strength in the high grade berries. And there's little satisfaction in coffee that lacks a full, rich flavor.

You are choosing a high grade coffee, but an inexpensive one, when you tell the grocer to send Mex-O-Ja.

From every pound you can make 40 cups of delicious coffee—more if you like it mild. The cost is less than a penny a cup.

Mex-O-Ja Coffee is packed in a specially constructed bag, enclosed in a protector carton with broad green and red stripes.

Not An Easy Job.

Rulers of Greece have not had an easy time since that country threw off the yoke of the sultan, ninety years ago. At the outset Greece tried a president—Capodistria—who was soon assassinated. Then Otto of Bavaria was chosen king, but, after a stormy time, was forced to abdicate. After that the crown went begging for a while. The duke of Edinburgh and the earl of Derby both refused it, and it was common talk that "Mr. Gladstone could have had it by the lifting of an eyelid."

Where Truth Pays.

A little town in South Texas does its best to support three hotels. Each sends a negro porter to meet the diurnal train, where they vie with one another, as only darkies can, in their attempts to get the few traveling men who stop. At the present time one of the big, good-natured negroes, who seems to know human nature, is calling out: "Right dis way fo' de State House, de best second-class hotel in town." Then, with a broad grin, he adds: "Dey ain't no fust-class."—Judge.

Sand and Glass.

Sand is the main constituent of glass, constituting from 52 to 65 per cent of the mass of the original mixture, or from 60 to 75 per cent of the finished product, after melting has driven off carbon dioxide and other volatile materials. On the quality of the sand depend the transparency, brilliancy and hardness of the glass.

Cleaning Paint Brushes.

The most successful way to soften brushes which the paint has hardened is to place them in vinegar. Heat the vinegar to a boiling point and allow the brushes to stand in it for a few minutes. Remove and wash thoroughly with soap and water, and the brushes will be in perfect condition.

No Occasion to Worry.

Scientists have long declared that the earth will dry up and become as barren and dismal as the moon. But there is no occasion to worry about this, since it will not occur for more millions of years, probably, than we can count.

STRANGE LADY IN BLACK

By LAURA L. HINKLEY.

The boy was trudging home from a day's fishing when he saw her coming down the river road. All in black from head to foot, her figure moved against the red sunset sky, tall and slender and very graceful, walking elastically as if upborne by vigor and youth. The boy noted curiously the heavy black veil drawn across her face. He was about to cross the intersection of their ways when she lifted her hand and beckoned him.

Bashfully, shifting the pole on his shoulder, the boy approached. He and she were all the human life in the landscape except the darkening village roofs and chimneys beyond the turn.

You know where all the people live in town, don't you, dear?" she asked, throwing back her veil.

Her voice was sweet and seductive; her face beautiful beyond all the lad's experience.

"Yes, sir," he stammered, blushing. "Yes, um."

"Do you know where Mr. Hurst lives?"

"Are there two Hursts?"

"Yes'm. Judge Hurst, he lives in the big house; an' young Mr. Hurst—he's his son—he lives on Water street since he got married. He ain't been married very long."

The boy stopped, astounded at what he saw. The beautiful face fronted him steadily, but the blood went out of it, leaving it thinner and older.

Then with a sort of ripple, the soul came back.

"I beg your pardon, dear! I am listening now. Whom did Mr. Hurst marry?"

"Belle Daly. They had an awful fine wedding. I guess Dalys was glad Bella got him. She's awful pretty."

"Prettier than I am?"

"No'm," faltered the boy. Then, breathlessly, he essayed his first compliment. "They ain't nobody—prettier'n you!"

She laughed with a flash of sweetness over her whole face, and dew of tears in her eyes. Putting one soft hand under the boy's chin, she stooped and kissed him on the mouth. Thereby she sealed him hers, body and soul.

"Will you do something for me?"

"Yes, ma'am!"

"I want you to take a letter to Mr. Hurst for me. Wait while I write it."

She sat down on a stump of a tree, and wrote with a lead pencil on her knee. It did not take long.

"Can you give that to Mr. Hurst without letting anyone see, not even his new wife? Do not tell anyone that you have seen me. Bring back Mr. Hurst's answer. I will wait for you here."

As he went lingeringly, the boy wheeled on one bare, irresolute heel to look at her. She was sitting motionless on the stump with one clenched hand pressed hard against her breast.

"I ain't cold," thought the boy, "but I'm shiverin' all over! An' now I ain't shiverin', I'm hot! Wonder if I ketches somethin'! Gee! Ain't she queer—an' lovely!"

He saw young Mr. Hurst, with his youthful, curly figure, his curly head and handsome, hard countenance, down town, followed into a quiet side street, and timidly accosted him.

"D— you!" said young Mr. Hurst. "What do you want?"

The boy silently proffered the letter. Young Mr. Hurst swore repeatedly on reading it. He tore a leaf from his note book and scribbled an answer.

"There! Take her that! And mind you hold your tongue!"

It was so dark when the lady in black rose to meet the boy, that she could hardly see to read the note. She embarrassed him with the graciousness of her thanks.

"I 'spect I'll git licked fer stayin' out so late."

"Are you going to tell?" she asked, fixing him with her wonderful eyes.

"No, ma'am."

"Not even if they whip you, or torment you, or put you in jail? What ever happens?"

"No, ma'am," he repeated, huskily. "I have no money to give you," she said, considering.

The boy threw back his head proudly above his aching throat.

"I don't want no money!"

She bent on him one of her sweet, swimming looks.

"A child!" she cried, softly; then suddenly gathered him in her arms, pressing his face in her bosom. The instant before he raised his lips to hers, the boy felt his cheek lie against something hard and cold.

His uneasy, raptured slumbers were broken by a thumping at his father's door. He put his head out of the window. There was a tumult of men's excited voices.

"Young Hurst—found him on the river road!—Bout ten o'clock—Letter in his pocket, queer, lead pencil scrawl—some woman—Knife in him!—Stone dead!"

The river road! The boy fought back a fearful impulse to scream out his agonized question: Was she killed, too?

He heard no word of her, then or later. His young honor would let him ask no question, and none was ever asked him, about the Lady in Black.

DAIRY

MILK RECORD FRAME

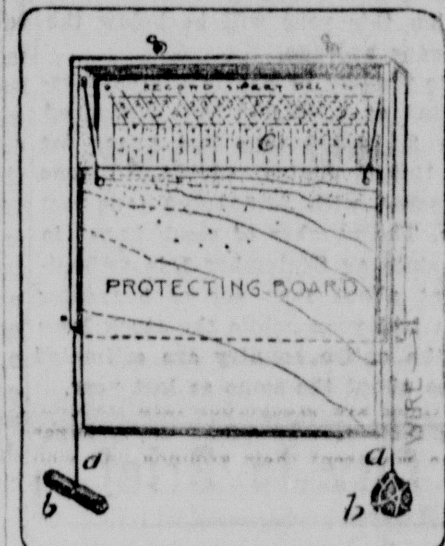

Gives Accurate Knowledge of Cow's Producing Ability.

Also Puts Man in Class Where Those on Outside Would Classify Him
Progressive Dairymen—How to Make One.

The keeping of milk records is not such a difficult task. It is really an easy matter and takes but little time. The main advantage is that it enables a man to have an accurate knowledge of the producing ability of his cows, writes F. L. Austin of Indiana in the Orange Judd and Farmer. It not only shows up the cows, but shows something of what the man is made of. It puts him in a class where those on the outside looking in would classify him as a progressive dairyman.

Such a dairymen I visited recently, and his method of keeping tab on his cows was of particular interest because of its simplicity. He had a milk record frame hanging on the wall near the center of the stable that was as handy as any frame I have ever seen. There are a number of different styles of milk record frames in use, some more or less complicated and expensive in make-up than others, while some are mere makeshifts, but this one is homemade and its cost is practically nothing.

This frame, as shown in the illustration, is made by taking a board about 1 inch thick and cutting it approximately 3 feet square, or by tacking two boards together to get this a, a, cords supporting protecting board, b, b, weights, c, record sheets. The wire keeps the lower part of the record sheets in place.

dimension. On three of the edges tack 2-inch strips so that they set flush on one side and project an inch on the other. These strips form the border, or frame, inside of which is placed the record sheet. A thin board is then cut to fit closely inside the frame. The edge of the frame on which there is no border strip will be the lower part of the frame as it hangs on the wall. Bore a quarter-inch hole in the upper end of each upright border strip. Through each hole run a strong cord to the corners of the loose board. Cut the cord about 3/4 feet long, and to the opposite ends attach weights heavy enough to balance the board in any position. This loose board will cover up all of the lower part of the sheet and prevent it from getting soiled during milking. To prevent it from flopping stretch a wire tightly across from right to left border about 2 inches from the lower end of the frame, allowing space enough for the protecting board to slide up and down freely. Between milkings the sheet may be covered up entirely and kept well protected. A coat of paint will add to the attractiveness of the frame, or it may be simply whitewashed.

Abuse and fright do not increase the milk flow.

A pair of milk scales and a Babcock tester will tell no tales.

The cow that gives a large flow of milk must have plenty of water.

The man who forgets to wait his cows is the one the cows forget.

Cream that is too old or too cold will cause trouble on churning day.

Butter paper is not expensive, and makes a nicer covering for butter than rags.

Lots of comfort for the cows during the day is an open shed facing the south.

Cream that has been properly handled and ripened will come without doctoring.

The quicker the milk is separated after it is drawn the better will be the results.

A variation in the way the separator is run will cause a loss in butter fat every time.

Before calving, the cow's food should be reduced in quantity and of a laxative nature.

Belvidere—Mrs. Mary Ann Marshall, the aged mother of Mrs. William Butcher, Mrs. James Alderman John W. and Joe Marshall, of this city, and a number of others not now residents of Belvidere, jumped through a second story window at St. Joseph's hospital and was killed at an early hour Monday morning.

Deputy Coroner R. B. Andrews held an inquest at the Peart undertaking parlors yesterday. Mrs. Marshall, who was 85 years of age, and had made her home for the past 15 years with her daughter, Mrs. William Butcher on West Menominee street, was taken to the hospital last Thursday night for special care and attention. Of late she had been displaying signs of mental derangement, and relatives deemed it best to have her cared for at the hospital.

Freeport—Chief Rodemeyer received this morning the bill of lading for the aerial truck, which was shipped from Columbus, O., Saturday. The truck is valued at $9,000.

Joliet—Scores of women and children were frightened, one woman fainted and one man suffered a sprained wrist in a panic in the Colonial Theatre Sunday night when a cry of "fire" was suddenly sounded in the center of the house. The identity of the person or persons who caused the panic is unknown.

Marengo—Joel Stull, a wealthy farmer and prominent citizen of this town, was found dead in a corn field near his home at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Stull left the house at 6 o'clock in the morning and was not again seen alive. About 9 o'clock the hired man became rather suspicious over his non-appearance and started a search for him, finding him face downward in a cornfield a short distance from the house.

Elgin—After knocking down a pedestrian while turning the corner of Douglas avenue and North street, at twenty miles an hour, a party of joyriders increased their speed and escaped in the darkness early Saturday evening. No one in the machine attempted to find out if the pedestrian had been injured. Witnesses of the accident shouted after the party to halt, and heard only laughter. No one was able to decipher the number on the car.

McConnell—A. D. Forrester, an Illinois Central brakeman residing in this city was badly bruised while at work at McConnell. Forrester was riding on the side of a freight car near the McConnell depot. He was thrown from the car and sustained several fractured ribs and was otherwise bruised about the body. He was brought to this city where he was attended by a company physician.

MAYOR GAYNOR OF
NEW YORK IS DEAD

1893, Gaynor, declining a citizens' nomination for mayor, took a nomination from the republicans and independent democrats for justice of the supreme court. At the same time the fusion ticket, headed by Charles A. Schieren, won a sweeping victory. The McLaughlin ring lost its power.

Coincidentally with the overthrow of McLaughlin was the annihilation of Chief of Police John Y. McMane, the democratic ruler of Coney Island, whose padded list of voters was used to swing elections with impunity. During the campaign Gaynor had declared that he would send McMane to prison if he attempted to debase the ballot box again. On election day Gaynor sent watchers to the polling places, having first procured an injunction which forbade interference with them. McMane's henchmen threw the watchers out of the polling booths and the boss himself uttered that famous declaration, "Injunctions don't go here." Gaynor threw himself into the work of the prosecution and after one of the most memorable series of trials in the country's history McMane and his associates were sent to prison for terms of various lengths.

The next year David B. Hill wanted Gaynor to take the democratic nomination for governor, but Gaynor declined and also refused to accept a nomination for judge of the Court of Appeals. In 1895 Gaynor refused the nomination for mayor of Brooklyn, because it did not come from a united democracy. In the following year he strongly supported Bryan and the radical democratic platform.

He was a candidate against McClellan for the mayoralty nomination in 1903, but was defeated by the Tammany influence. In 1906 he was a leading candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, but was defeated and supported Hearst. At the election in 1909 he was elected mayor on the Tammany ticket, but contrary to expectations he maintained an independent position and aroused considerable enmity by his energetic reform measures. On Aug. 9, 1910, while about to sail on a vacation trip to Europe, Mayor Gaynor was shot and seriously wounded by James J. Gallagher, a discharged city employe.

TACTICS TO BE FOLLOWED IN A
WAR IN MEXICO

THE SAME COURSE AS PURSUED IN 1846 WILL BE FOLLOWED—THREE ROUTES FOLLOWED IN THAT WAR SUCCEEDED

What tactics would the United States adopt in case an invasion of Mexico were planned?

The question has caused discussion in military circles since the situation in the southern republic has grown serious. Many point to the tactics of the American army in 1846 and say the same plan would be adopted now if war were to be declared.

The invasion in 1846 was planned by three routes—from Montemorelos to Monterey, in New Leon; from San Antonio de Bexar to Chihuahua and from Fort Leavenworth to New Mexico. The first force under General Taylor gained the most success. Monterey was taken by assault on September 23, 1847, and Santa Anna was defeated.

It is now generally conceded that the first step of the military authorities would be to safeguard American interests by occupation of the northern states of Chihuahua and Sonora. With the southern part of our own country fortified, the next step would probably be to attack both coasts.

Mexico, with her small fleet, would be helpless before the assault of the modern warships and with her commerce cut off would find herself in a critical condition.

Most resistance would probably be encountered in the mountain districts where guerilla warfare could be carried on for months, as in the Philippines, with the little danger to the native bands with their knowledge of the country.

Mexico City would probably be the important inland fortification to be subjected to siege and with the capital taken a big point would have been gained. Different divisions of the army will then probably be sent north and south to subdue the rest of the country.

An Interesting Word
About Fabrics

All styles indicate a return to the feminine—the skirt of even the most severe tailor-made has a suggestion of drapery and everything tends toward the elaborate, even for street and morning wear. The fabrics themselves reflect the desire for dressier costumes and serges and worsteds are supplanted by materials that are so soft and supple as to drape gracefully.

The beauty and novelty of the new wool Ratines and Matelasse, developed in delightful effects, as well as the charming Jacquard, have won unlimited enthusiasm. The Cheviots, the loose woven Etamine Cheviots and many recently developed rough novelty materials are high in favor.

Let us show you all these charming new fabrics as Bischof uses them this season. You will find these graceful draperies exceedingly becoming. The moment you try these suits on, you see how noticeably they give you the fashionable silhouette.

CURRENCY DEBATE IS ON IN HOUSE

Chairman Glass Defends Money Measure While Others Criticize.

TO END TALK ON SATURDAY

Representatives Murdock and Hayes Subject Money Reform Bill to Scathing Criticism—Senate Plans to Hasten Work.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Following the adoption of a resolution offered by Chairman Underwood, the house decided to hold day and night sessions for general debate on the currency reform bill.

Chairman Glass of the banking and currency committee opened the day's discussion of the bill. The general debate will continue day and night until Saturday evening. Next week the bill will be taken up in detail.

Representative Hayes of California, Republican ranking member of the committee, and Representative Murdock of Kansas, Progressive floor leader, opened the debate for their respective parties.

Parties' Stand Toward Bill. Chairman Glass presented the bill as a positive cure for the financial ills of the country. Representative Hayes admitted the value of some of the bill's provisions, and Representative Murdock criticized the measure as "halting timid half-way, compromise."

ing." "As a well-intended effort to bring elasticity to the currency the Glass bill invites indorsement," said Mr. Murdock. "But even if it brings elasticity its enactment will not quiet the public demand for correction of the real source of the trouble—Wall street."

Oppose Capital Plan.

The greater part of the Republican opposition to the bill, voiced by Representative Hayes and Representative Dyer of Missouri, was based upon the provisions of the measure requiring that national banks subscribe 20 per cent. of their capital stock and five per cent. of their deposits as a fund to capitalize the federal reserve banks. The return on this investment—five per cent. under the bill—the Republicans declared was not sufficient profit to induce the banks to enter the system. The broad powers of the federal reserve board and its "partisan political complexion" were also criticized.

Mr. Glass discussed in considerable detail objections made to the bill by bankers and raised by the Republican spokesmen. Mr. Glass concluded:

"It is one of these things that vexes the big bankers. It is a loss of profits derived from a system which makes them the legal custodians of all the reserve funds of the country, $240,000,000 of which funds on November 24, 1912, they had put into the maelstrom of Wall street stock operations."

Senate to Hasten Work.

President Wilson took up the currency situation with the senate steering committee. Senators Kern, Hoke Smith, Clarke, Lea, O'Gorman, Owen, Chamberlain, Martin, Thomas and Bacon were present. Senator Bacon favored a few weeks' rest before taking up the work.

When the conference was concluded Senator Kern, chairman of the steering committee, announced that there would be no delay in taking up the currency bill.

Representative Martin B. Madden of Chicago said the Glass-Owen currency bill did a rank injustice to the bankers of the country because the national banks are required by the terms of the act to subscribe for stock in the federal reserve banks or surrender their charters, but are not given representation on the federal reserve board.

Smoke.

Smoke is not composed of gases only, but of solid, or perhaps partly liquid, particles, which are mixed with the gases and carried along by them. It is three particles of matter that are visible to the eye, and not the gases themselves.—St. Nicholas.

Ad Hominem.

Women in Professions.

Although women have not succeeded in becoming barristers in England, they are working their way well into the other branches of the legal profession. Several firms of solicitors employ women clerks for responsible work, and these occasionally appear in court ready to prompt counsel or hand him exhibits and papers. And the up-to-date law stationer employs female labor extensively in typewriting briefs and cases for opinion. But wills and leases and other documents that require penmanship are still left to the unattached male copyist, who may be found any day propped up against the old wall of Lincoln's inn, London, patiently waiting for the successor of Mr. Nagsby to engage him. Just as Dickens described him in "Bleak House."

GAS OVERCOMES AGED WIFE WANTS MARCH OPEN FOR DUCK HUNTING

NEIGHBORS BROKE INTO HOUSE AND FOUND MR. AND MRS. SHEADLE UNCONSCIOUS.

Rochelle, Sept. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Sheadle, both over 70, were found unconscious at 10 a. m. yesterday in their home here, suffering from asphyxiation by gas.

Later Mrs. Sheadle slightly recovered, but her husband is still unconscious. Their condition is regarded as critical.

If the neighbors had not noticed the curtains of the house were down in the morning it is certain the aged couple would have been found dead.

A daughter, Mrs. John Lansden, who lives close by, was notified and tried to break into the house. All the doors were locked, however, and she had to get a passing delivery boy to climb through a window. This proved a difficult task, as the entire house was full of gas, a steady flow pouring out of a jet in the hallway near the couple's bedroom.

Mr. Sheadle was found in bed, while his wife was found on the floor of the bath room. It is believed that she awakened during the night and discovered the smell of gas and got up to locate the open jet. In doing this she was evidently overcome by the fumes.

The gas was so thick in the house that several of the rescuing party were temporarily overcome.

English Property Held by Monks.

The monks of St. Bernard, who have found it necessary recently to revolt against the manners of British tourists, have had interests to guard in England for several centuries. Their mother house at Martigny held formerly possession of many broad acres in that country. In 1717 we find recorded among their landed estates the chapel of Rumford. Henry II. gave them the hospital at Horne church (or Haverling), in Essex, which was acquired from them by William of Wykeham for his foundation of New college, at Oxford, which still owns the property and "advowson" of the living. One of the earliest detailed itineraries of the St. Bernard pass is that of Sigier, archbishop of Canterbury, who crossed it in 990.

ILLINOIS SPORTSMEN TO PROTEST NEW FEDERAL GAME LAW

Hunters of Illinois will protest against the Weeks-McLean bill, passed at the last session of congress, at a meeting of the Illinois State Sportsmen's association to be held at Bloomington Wednesday.

The Weeks-McLean bill specifies zones in which shooting of ducks and other water fowl is prohibited. The direct intention of the measure is for the protection of song, plumage and migratory birds. Hunters of Illinois believe they are discriminated against in the recommendation of the committee appointed by the president to formulate regulations in accordance with the new bill.

Not Fair to Illinois

The zones as they have been recommended prohibit residents of Illinois from shooting ducks or other water fowl after December 16 to the following September 2. The shooters of Texas are allowed to kill ducks from October 16 to January 16th, the entire winter's shooting or the entire time the ducks remain in their locality and until they start north in the spring. This regulation, it is contended, is not fair to the sportsmen of Illinois.

It is proposed to ask for the month of March in addition to the present proposed open season, thus allowing shooters of Illinois what little opportunity that month affords, where there is plenty of water.

It Happened in China.

An American commercial traveler who was in China soon after the downfall of the empire was approached one day by a Chinaman, who told him, in fairly good English, that he had a brick of pure silver, weighing 30 pounds, which had been looted from one of the government treasuries during a riot. The Chinaman explained that to only an American would he trust the secret, and said that he would sell the silver for a sum which amounted to $5 in our money. Not being one who would look such a gift horse in the mouth, the American promptly paid the $5 and took possession of the silver bar. Soon after, being in Hong Kong, and wishing to test the value of his purchase the American took the silver bar to a Chinese assayer and asked for its weight. The pig-tailed savant of the scales carefully tested the metal, weighed it and then remarked laconically: "He weigh lead."

Doctor Wilson's Lucky Thirteen. Let the superstitious cultivate number 13 if they want real luck. At least President-elect Wilson finds it so, and any combination which by addition, subtraction, or multiplication will produce the lucky number, gives him the greatest delight. "Thirteen," he says, "have always been running through my life in connection with some fortune." His name—Woodrow Wilson—contains just 13 letters. It is said he dropped Thomas, his first name, in order to get down to lucky 13. For 13 years he was a professor in Princeton university, and then was elected its thirteenth president. He was nominated and elected president of the United States in 1912, which by the addition of its digits gives 13. The electoral college met on the 13th of January, and he will be the "28th president," a combination of figures totaling 13.

Glass-Eyed Cow Works Overtime. A few months ago a dairy cow belonging to Blair Stanton, a Wyandotte county farmer, producing eight quarts of milk a day, lost an eye in the hedge brush. The cow refused to associate with others of the herd, gloomed alone and relapsed into a state of chronic melancholy. From eight quarts of milk per day her output dropped to four. A veterinarian was called. He found no ailment except melancholy, and he solved the problem by providing her with a glass eye. Next day the Jersey was found with the herd grazing in deep contentment. Best of all, she regained her milk and started in to make up for lost time. Now she is giving ten quarts of milk a day and is happy.—Kansas City Dispatch to the New York Herald.

TARIFF MEET BEGUN

HOUSE AND SENATE CONFEREES START LABORS.

Democrats Lead by Underwood Are Dissatisfied With the Way Senate Amended Bill.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The last stage in the development of the Democratic tariff legislation was reached when the conferees of the house and senate began their labors here today over the measure as amended by the senate.

The house Democrats, led by Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, are by no means satisfied with the bill as amended by the senate, when considered as a producer of revenue. Mr. Underwood has been informed by his experts that the senate bill will produce about $9,000,000 less revenue from the customs features.

Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee said that he hoped the conference would be completed within a week, though it might run ten days. The senate, however, has placed between 600 and 700 amendments in the bill and many of them are of great importance.

It is believed a big fight will come in conference over the income tax features of the bill.

QUITS AS REFORMATORY HEAD

R. A. Russell Resigns Superintendency at Pontiac, Ill., Following Charges of Cruelty to Inmates.

Pontiac, Ill., Sept. 11.—R. A. Russell today relinquished the superintendency of the Illinois state reformatory at a meeting of the board of managers of that institution, and Chief Clerk Z. T. Trumbo is acting as temporary superintendent.

In a statement Mr. Russell said that the clamor and commotion was caused by those wishing a change on political grounds. Among charges which have been filed against Russell are that he allowed the guards to beat and kick the boys cruelly, that they have been worked long hours without recreation. Mr. Russell emphatically stated that no brutality had been practiced during his administration.

Thirty Drowned in Flood. Madrid, Sept. 11.—Thirty persons at least have been drowned within the past 48 hours in Spain in floods. In some places cloudbursts have resulted.

CUSTOMERS want what they want when they want it, and when they do they'll buy your goods if you let them know you've got what they want at the price
they want to pay.
ADVERTISE—Mr. Merchant, tell the home folks you can fill their needs. You'll find them responsive.
